Golden Wedding.

DUNNVILLE, KY., Dec. 2.—The 50th anniversary or golden wedding of Thos. Bell and his wife, Elizabeth Rich Bell, was this day celebrated at their home here. Mr. Bell was born Jan. 19, 1832, and is 77 years old. Mrs. Bell being born Feb. 11, 1840, is now nearly 69 years old. They were married Dec. 2, 1858, and from this union nine children were born, five boys and four girls, all of whom are living. The oldest is 49 and the youngest 28. They are all married and have had 36 children, 34 of whom are living, and these have had 11 children, who are great-grandchildren of Thomas and Elizabeth Bell, making a total of 56 children from this union of 50 years ago.

At 10 o'clock A. M. the hosts of children, grand children and great-grandchildren, friends and neighbors assembled at the Christian church, where services were conducted by Hon. Wm. Hobson, of Campbellsville, who was a near relative of Gen. E. H. Hobson, with whom Mr. Bell served in the Federal army, and for whom he cherishes fond memories. The theme for this occasion was "Matrimony" and the scriptural lessons taken from Gen. 2:18, 24, (the marriage of Adam and Eve) and Matt. 19:4, 5, 6, being the language of Jesus to the Pharisees. The discourse lasted one hour and was delivered in a very forcible manner. While the first part was received in a joyful way, the latter part, with the renewal of those sacred marriage vows of 50 years ago, was very pathetic and tears flowed freely from nearly every eye. After handshaking and congratulations for the dear old father and mother, the speaker announced that a marriage feast awaited those present and that feast which awaited them was emblematic of the feast which was prepared for us long ago by our blessed Master, Jesus.

The following is a list of the valuable golden presents which were presented to the dear old couple: Berry spoon by Wm. Hobson and wife, sugar shell by Claud Hobson and wife, butter knife by W. G. Smith and wife, watch fob by L. W. Cundiff and wife, watch fob and tea set by J. A. Winfrey and wife, cream ladle and gold frame by George Purdy and wife, cream ladle by Fred Carson and wife, gold plates by Ed Pelley and wife, gold plates by Dr. L. F. Hammonds and wife, $5 in gold each by G. A. Cundiff and wife, H. E. Harmon and wife, C. C. Jones and Mrs. Ada Bell, P. C. Bell and wife, W. C. Cundiff and wife, R. G. Combest and wife, Frank Bell and wife, $2 in gold by J. W. Bell and wife, $20 in gold by S. J. Bell and wife, fruit basket and butter knife by L. M. Combest and wife and many other valuable articles too numerous to mention.

Strange to say, although very pleasing to Uncle Tom Bell, with all the multitude present, there was but one democrat present, he being Mr. J. A. Winfrey, Mr. Bell's son-in-law. But as Mr. Winfrey is a Jeffersonian democrat, believing in the majority ruling, he was bound to tumble. Now, it must not be construed that this was a republican convention, for it was the golden anniversary of Uncle Tom and Aunt Elizabeth's wedding.

The following was offered by William Hobson and dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bell.

Just 50 years ago to-day
Did we on Hymen's altar lay
Ourselves with what we did possess,
Henceforth each other's lives to bless.

Along the way we've had to meet
Much that was by no means sweet,
But by sharing each other's load
Have helped smooth each other's road.

Nine children to our home have come,
Much for our happiness have done,
Tho' they have been a constant care
Have done us good beyond compare.

Our powers are now giving way,
We have not long, at best, to stay;
But when this earthly life is o'er
We hope to live on Canaan's shore.

Dear children, to our God be true
In all you think and speak and do,
And let us meet beyond the sky,
Where we shall never say good-bye.

Several decades ago there lived in Charleston, W. Va., a judge noted for his boorish manners. A very unkind lawyer, whom he especially disliked, was once trying a case before him, and all the while the barrister spoke the judge sat with his feet elevated on the railing in front of him, hiding his face. Exasperated by this the lawyer queried:

"May I ask which end of your honor I am to address?"

"Whichever you choose," drawled the judge.

"Well," was the retort, "I suppose there is as much law in one end as the other."—Philadelphia Ledger.

MATRIMONIAL.

John Shelton and Miss Vina Hopkins, each 20 years old, will be made one at Joseph Hopkins' to-day.

A Western woman is suing for divorce because her husband persisted in wearing a red woolen shirt to a wedding, and an Eastern woman wants one because her husband has forced her to move 12 times in less than a year.

Tampa, Florida.

While the people in Lincoln county, Kentucky, are expending their energies providing fuel to keep warm, some thoughts of a warmer clime may serve to make the cold seem less intense.

As all students of geography know, Florida has a great length of coast line, almost 1,200 miles, which is remarkable for the great number of bays, making the coast accessible, and containing a number of the finest harbors in the world. The Gulf of Mexico, on which the East coast borders, is a warm body of water and the Gulf Stream, running close to the coast of Florida, is warmer than it is at any other point where it touches land in this country or in Europe.

It is the greatest naval stores producing State in the country, the State noted for its cigar manufacturing, and the home of the yellow pine and citrus fruit.

As to the climate—winters passed here are a succession of pleasure, delight and joy. The gentle touches of the breeze from the great Gulf, mingled with the breath of the pines, furnish healing balm to weakened throats and lungs. These health giving winds toss the pine needles, stir the placid waves of the streams which lie as gemlike settings in the highlands of this section, and play with the orange trees laden with the beautiful golden fruit.

A most interesting feature of Florida is the large number of springs of great depth and size. While the fame of these springs does not equal Hot Springs or Saratoga, they possess many curative powers, indeed; there is a time-honored legend that one of these wonderful springs was sought by Ponce De Leon as the fountain of perpetual youth.

Tampa, the place we call home, is picturesquely situated on Hillsborough Bay, an arm of the Gulf and is one of the busiest cities in the State. It is the most advantageous shipping point of the Gulf and its foreign and domestic exports of cattle, lumber, fruits, vegetables, naval stores and phosphate run into the millions. It has the distinction of having been chosen as port of embarkation for the invasion of Cuba.

No American city has a greater wealth of foliage, gigantic oaks, magnolias and palms, with here and there banana and orange trees and a great profusion of beautiful shrubbery adorning the streets. It has long been noted for its mild, salubrious climate and is quite a resort for tourists and home-seekers. A significant feature of Tampa's commerce is the amount of business derived from its fishing industries. The total value of the fish product reaches about a million dollars each year and furnishes employment to hundreds of men.

This city is the home of the Havana cigar industry and has justly earned the title, "Havana of America." It boasts of 100 cigar factories and sends out some of the finest cigars in the world.

This country is especially suited to Epicureans. Fresh vegetables and all kinds of fruit are grown in winter just the same as summer.

The climate all of the year is suited for hunting and fishing. The good street car system gives easy access to parks and pleasure places, while steamers make frequent trips across the bay to places long noted for their surf bathing and fishing places.

If our brilliant Lincoln county writer, Fontaine Fox Bobbitt, for whose articles Kentuckians watch with interest, were here to bask in the "Land of Flowers" no doubt but his writings would be scattered all over the land.

Among the points of interest in Florida is the "Swanee River," a few miles out from Jacksonville, where Foster wrote the celebrated old song. Very few of its thousands of admirers, have seen the immortalized river or realized the quiet beauty of the stream, with trees bending over its bosom, festooned with the long gray moss for which Florida is noted.

"Way down upon the Swanee River"—the old trees seem to wave it in the evening air and the bright plumed birds join the imaginary chorus.

Here were the "Old Folks at Home," with no thought of care. The beauty and sunny peace of all this were just what suited the sentiment of that touching and tender air, which has been wafted all over the world.

Yet I was not more impressed with these scenes than when looking upon the spot where the same writer sat when writing "My Old Kentucky Home."

A Kentuckian may travel from North to South and from East to West, yet when he hears this native song he becomes enthusiastic and feels that his own land is the "Garden Spot of the World."

The House Ways and Means committee has decided to extend the tariff hearings to Dec. 19. Authority will be asked from Congress to subpoena witnesses and put them under oath.

NEWS NOTES.

F. Y. Patterson, an aged citizen of Warren county, dropped dead.

The sheriff of Bullitt county paid over to Auditor James $1,200 dog tax.

John D. Armstrong & Co., brokers, of Pittsburg, have made an assignment.

The business section of Beckville, Tex., was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

Rear Admiral Joseph Coghlan is dead at his home in New Rochelle, N. Y. He was a native of Kentucky.

Robbers dynamited the post-office safe at Sylacauga, Ala., and got away with $1,000 in stamps and cash.

The special grand jury to investigate alleged election frauds in Chicago has returned 114 indictments to date.

The wife of Conrad Hotopp, president of the Hardin National Bank, is dead at Elizabethtown, aged 74.

The Standard Oil prosecutions in Hancock county, O., came to a sudden termination when all the indictments against the company were nolle.

Francis J. Heney has so far recovered from the effects of the wound inflicted by Morris Haas on Nov. 13 that he has left the hospital at San Francisco.

M. C. Southworth, familiarly known as "Cooney," was found shot through the head and almost frozen to death near Georgetown. His case is a mystery.

Kentucky game laws were pronounced ineffective and useless at a meeting of sportsmen held in Louisville. An organization looking to more satisfactory law is projected.

After causing an actual property loss of about $150,000 and an estimated depreciation in values to adjoining property of $500,000, the Arkansas river at Pine Bluff is falling.

James O'Hearn, an editor of Peoria, Ill., asked the county judge to commit him to an insane asylum, saying that unless he was locked up he would kill an attorney and then commit suicide. His request was complied with.

Judge Matthews, at Nashville, in ruling on the applications for writs of habeas corpus by alleged night riders, held that the arrests and court proceedings had been illegal, but said that inasmuch as the defense had expressed a willingness to give bail he would require it. The men will be rearrested on new charges.

Gov. Haskett issued a proclamation declaring that the State Dispensary System had been abolished by the vote at the recent election, which leaves the citizens of Oklahoma without any lawful means to purchase inside the State, liquor for medical purposes. This situation will continue until the people or the Legislature provide some scheme for the sale of liquor for medical purposes. The majority against the dispensary was 16,000.

Gov. Willson Thursday commuted the sentence of Robert Hocker, the Negro who was to have been hanged at Lexington Friday morning. In giving his reasons for commuting the sentence of Hocker to a life term in the penitentiary, Gov. Willson said in a long opinion, that he did not think that Hocker had premeditatedly committed the crime and that the story of the killing was probably not told in its entirety to the jury. The commutation of Hocker created some excitement in Lexington, although there was little of mob spirit expressed.

FARMER'S DEPARTMENT.

E. P. & J. B. Woods lost by death last week a valuable jack.

R. C. Arnold sold the blue-grass seed he advertised to J. H. Baughman at 75c.

Several fresh Jersey cows for sale. Good ones. J. B. Camenisch, Stanford.

Over 92,000 pounds of tobacco sold at Springfield Saturday at an average of $17.80.

New York Elks are to spend $1,000 on a new clubhouse, hotel and theater in that city.

J. E. and J. C. Robinson sold their crop of tobacco, about 30,000 pounds, at 16c.—Lancaster Record.

In Nicholas county corn is selling from $3 to $3.25 per barrel in the field, or from $3.50 to $3.75 delivered.

The two-year old trotter, Robert C., by Peter the Great, was sold by the Fatchen Wilkes Farm at Lexington to G. G. Moore, of St. Clair, Mich.

Robert T. Bruce tells us that W. B. Burton, of Lancaster, bought a carload of extra good mules in Marion county at $180 and that he and his father have sold 50 hogs lately at 6c.

Elsewhere in this issue will be seen the announcement of Judge M. C. Saufley, of Stanford, for the office of Circuit Judge of this Judicial District, composed of the counties of Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln and Garrard.

Judge Saufley has filled this position heretofore in an able way, is known to everybody in the district and needs no encomium at our hands.—Harrodsburg Herald.

To The Democrats of The 13th Judicial District:

I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for circuit judge of this district, composed of the counties of Lincoln, Garrard, Boyle and Mercer.

M. C. SAUFLEY.

His Ma—Willie, where have you been, your hair is suspiciously wet. Willie—I fell in the river. His Ma—But your clothes are not wet.

W. A. MOBERLY.

Under a good picture of the splendid young man, the Knoxville Sentinel says:

Mr. W. A. Moberly, the subject of this sketch, came to Knoxville from Stanford, Ky., his old home, some 12 or 15 years ago, and was an official of the Southern Railway Co., where he made many friends, especially among the business men of this and other cities. He is now general manager and stockholder of the Rand Powder Company, of Tennessee, having assisted in the erection of the powder mills four years ago, located on the Southern Railway and Louisville & Nashville railroad at Marlow, Tenn. The Rand Powder Co., of Tennessee, have their own power plant for light as well as furnishing power to operate all of their different mills, some 15 buildings, and is one of the most modern manufacturing plants in the South and under the supervision of Mr. Moberly the business has gradually increased, and notwithstanding the business depression of last year, he has been able to place on the market quite a nice business in his line.

The capacity of this powder mill is 1,000 kegs per day and can be increased as business demands. They not only manufacture one of the highest grades of mining and blasting powder on the market, but keep in stock at their plant a full line of all grades of dynamite and blasting supplies of all descriptions. Their motto is to fill orders immediately and give the same proper attention until it reaches its destination, and the most courteous attention is always given their customers.

Mr. Moberly is prominent in social circles and fraternal societies, being a member of the Cumberland Club and Royal Arcanum, and has always been interested in the welfare of Knoxville.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Robert Hall, formerly of Lancaster, was shot and killed at Corbin.

J. S. Skinner has been appointed postmaster at Marcellus, Garrard county.

George Vaught, one of the oldest citizens of the Dry Branch section of Pulaski, is dead at an advanced age.

Charles Sandlin, in the employ of the Richmond Copperage Co., had a leg broken and was terribly lacerated about the hip by a piece of machinery breaking.

A five-year-old child of Z. R. Howard, a prominent Laurel county farmer, was burned to death by its clothes catching from an open grate, before which the child was playing.

D. M. Bissett, one of the best-known young men of Mercer county, died at Lawrenceburg of consumption. He arrived there the night before from Denver, Col., where he had been for the benefit of his health.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, of Fonde, Bell county, was accidentally shot and killed while making up a bed. A Winchester rifle concealed under the mattress was thrown out and the weapon discharged with the above result.

His many warm friends in this county, regret very much to hear of the untimely death of Prof. W. C. Grinstead. Prof. Grinstead has conducted several institutes in this county, and among the Rockcastle teachers, had many warm friends.—Signal.

One of the largest real estate deals made here in a long time has just been closed between A. R. Humble and T. V. Ferrell, whereby Mr. Humble transfers to Mr. Ferrell eight two-story houses on Griffin Avenue and two in Ferguson, the consideration being $10,500.—Somerset Journal.

While searching for a burglar whom he believed was lurking in his cellar, Dr. Charles E. Brown, Jr., a prominent physician of Springfield, accidentally killed himself. Dr. Brown had been aroused from sleep by a noise in the basement of his house. Revolver in hand, he went in search of the intruder. When he reached the cellar he became excited and dropped the weapon. The bullet penetrated the lower part of his body, death resulting within a few hours.

CHURCH MATTERS.

Remember there are three services each day at the Methodist church, at 10:30 A. M., 3:30 P. M. and 6:30 P. M. The afternoon service is a special service for children.

The missionary societies of the Methodist church will have an "all day" service Friday beginning at 10:30. Preaching by Rev. Guice or Harbin at 11 A. M. All are cordially invited to bring small baskets.

Revs. Guice and Harbin are preaching at the Methodist church here. They already have the ear of the people and the congregations were large both at the morning and evening service Sunday. Rev. Guice is a very popular singer and Rev. Harbin's sermons are pronounced very fine.

Little Freddie was told by the nurse one morning that the stork had visited the house during the night and left him a little baby sister; and asked if he would like to see her.

"I don't care nothing about the baby," said little Freddie, "but I would like to see the stork."—Delineator.

That a Negro's skull is a hard proposition the following dispatch from Paris will prove: John Case, a colored tenant on the Leach farm, was shot in the forehead with a 38 caliber bullet, but sustained no injury, the bullet rebounding from the skull.

Willson Jones committed suicide at Sharpsburg, aged 65.

E. C. WALTON

HILL.—Col. Thomas Peyton Hill calmly sank into the eternal sleep at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening, Dec. 6th. He had been in declining health for some time, and his death was due to the infirmities of advanced age. The family from which Col. Hill descends were members of the colony of Lord Baltimore, who settled the State of Maryland and it has produced men who have achieved national reputation as lawyers, statesmen, churchmen and philosophers. He was born Aug. 30, 1826, and his boyhood days were spent at the home of his grand parents in the Peyton's Well section of this county, his father having died at the early age of 26, after giving promise of a future as brilliant as that of his illustrious son. He was thrice married; first, before attaining his majority, to his kinswoman, Miss Maria A. Peyton; next to Mrs. Panny A. Fowler, nee Lewis; and lastly to Miss Mary L. Peyton. There were eight children of the first marriage, all of whom are dead save his talented daughter, Mrs. Benedict Spalding, of Lebanon, Mr. T. P. Hill, an eminent lawyer of Buffalo, Wyoming, and Mr. W. B. Hill, a farmer of this county. Col. Hill was prepared for the practice of law under the tutelage of John Kincaid, a famous lawyer of this section in the early days, who greatly influenced his subsequent career. He began the practice of law in Monticello, and from there went to Somerset, but soon removed to Stanford, where his fame and name were made. He was associated for a number of years with Judge J. W. Alcorn, under the firm name of Hill & Alcorn, and later, until his retirement, with Mr. P. M. McRoberts, as Hill & McRoberts. As a lawyer, Col. Hill was easily entitled to a place in the first class. With knowledge and understanding of original principles and in the powers of analysis, reasoning and expression, he was the equal of the best. Beginning his career when the work of the lawyer consisted not so much as now, in searching the books to find out what the law is, but in exercising his reasoning powers to demonstrate what it ought to be, he cultivated a naturally brilliant mind up to the point where it was almost impossible to tell where his logic ended and his sophistry began. His knowledge of the law was that of the frontiersman of the wilderness. With no paths blazed to show the way, he is yet able to find his bearings and fix his course, because he knows that the moss grows on the North side of the tree as well as the other laws of the woods.

His greatest fame among the masses though was as a public speaker, and he always held his hearers spell bound whether he was before the appellate judges, a jury or a political gathering. Being before the Federal Court at Louisville during the famous presidential campaign of 1876, he went to Jeffersonville one night to hear "Blue Jeans" Williams. After the speaking he was called for, and so electrified the audience that he was immediately drafted by the campaign committee and compelled to canvass the whole State of Indiana in connection with Williams. He was always in demand as a speaker at college commencements and celebrations of all kinds.

He was the same charmer in the social circle. He had no superior as a conversationalist. His fund of reminiscences, enlivened with brilliancy and humor, made him the chief spokesman of every gathering, great or small. He enjoyed the society of the young as well as the old and retained his buoyancy to the last. He was the personification of kindness, and the best index of his character is that those who knew him best were drawn to him with hooks of steel. During the whole of his active practice there were students in his office, many coming from a distance, preferring his instruction to that of the best law schools. These students today are scattered all over the country, many of them having attained eminent success in life, and it can be safely said that there is not one of the number who does not have for him the affection of a dutiful son to an indulgent father.

By those who knew him best it is said that he never said of a man in his absence, whether friend or enemy, what he could not say in his presence.

He was always the friend of the young man and rendered him the greatest of all help by teaching him to help himself. But his help was not confined to precept and advice. The destitute did not appeal to him in vain and if he knew of their condition, they were helped without an appeal.

Though a great man, he was humble and unassuming and asked nothing for himself. In speaking of his death he said that he hoped his friends would waste no money in purchasing flowers for him, but appropriate their cost to the poor. He attached himself to the church early in life and never saint or martyr expressed more willingness than he to meet his Maker.

Bright be the bloom and sweet the fragrance of the flower on his grave.

The burial will occur in Buffalo Cemetery at 10:30 this morning.

STANFORD loses heavily by the deaths of Col. Thomas P. Hill and Mr. Mark Hardin. Both were thoroughly identified with the material interests of this goodly little city, which is now in gloom over their taking away. The one, a great lawyer, whose oratorical powers awayed men in his day; the other a big hearted, plain business man; buried in a few hours of each other. May God stay the hand of death until we shall have partially recovered from the fearful strokes of the past two days. It will be a long time before men can be found who will take their places as model citizens.

The Indianapolis News and New York Sun are denounced by President Roosevelt in a letter to William Dudley Foulke as being mendacious and untruthful newspapers and their editors termed liars. Both, he charges, are repeatedly guilty of printing untruths which they know to be untrue when they are published. In reply Mr. Laffan, of the New York Sun, says Mr. Roosevelt has been guilty of acts which would lead to his expulsion from any club of gentlemen.

LYNCHBURG, VA., voted against saloons. This will be bad news to Hon. Henry Watterson, of "No-democratic-be-a-prohibitionist" fame.

REPRESENTATIVE CHAMP CLARK, of Missouri, was chosen minority leader of the House Saturday night at a caucus of the democratic members of that body. He was placed in nomination by John Sharp Williams, his predecessor.

THE childless editor of the Somerset Journal, Mr. Woodson May, is making a fight on comic supplements in Sunday papers. A child or two might cause a little milk of human kindness to find place in his breast.

POLITICAL.

Baltimore already has a Bryan Club to boost him for President in 1912.

F. P. McGarvey has announced for the democratic nomination for Representative of Mercer county.

Judge M. J. Moss claims he has won in the judicial race in the 26th district, but W. T. Davis, his opponent, says it will take the official count to tell. Moss carried Bell and Whitley and Davis carried Harlan.

John D. Pringle, a Pittsburgh labor leader, is to be given a fat Federal office by President Roosevelt. Mr. Pringle, of course opposed Samuel Gompers in the recent campaign and threw his influence to Taft.

Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, said that the people of his State want to be represented in President Taft's cabinet and are in favor of the appointment of Charles Nagel, of St. Louis, as Secretary of the Interior.

Democratic Congressmen arriving at Washington, say it is too early to discuss the next candidate of the party for president, but generally agree that Mr. Bryan will never run again. A mild boom has already been started for Senator Culberson, of Texas.

Gov. J. C. S. Blackburn, of the Canal Zone, who is sojourning in Washington a few days before his return to Kentucky, announced to his friends that he is ready to resign his position should President-elect Taft so desire. Gov. Blackburn says that work on the canal in Panama is progressing along lines that are satisfactory.

President Roosevelt, in a letter to Dr. Lyman Abbott, put himself down as a mild advocate of woman suffrage, saying that he did not fear any great evil from it, and also that he did not look for any great good. He expressed the opinion that when any great number of women really want the right to vote, they will obtain their wish.

William Lewis easily defeated Judge H. C. Faulkner for the nomination for circuit judge in the republican primary held in the 27th judicial district. He carried every county in the district and his majority is about 2,500. Caleb Powers got his revenge when Capt. B. B. Golden was defeated for Commonwealth's attorney by J. C. Cloyd. Capt. Golden only carried his home county, Knox.

In this issue the announcement of Judge M. C. Sauley, for the democratic nomination for Judge of this district, appears. His official life, as Judge of the district, for 11 years, is an open book, in which is recorded rulings and judgments consistent with the principles of right and justice, and favoring law and order. He is an eminent lawyer, possessed of a strong will and a high sense of honor, never favoring any compromise when questions of morality and public good are being considered. He has many friends who will exhaust all honorable means to secure his nomination. — Lancaster Record.

DR. L. B. COOK did splendidly with his Single Comb Rhode Island Red chickens at the Frankfort Poultry Show. In fact he captured nearly every premium he showed for.

MONEY.—Supt. Grindall Singleton tells us that he will be ready to pay the teachers their second or November "draw" next Saturday. The voucher came yesterday.

MR. GEORGE B. SAUFLEY, who has made a most satisfactory master commissioner of the Lincoln Circuit Court, has resigned and Judge W. C. Bell has appointed Mr. J. B. Paxton in his place. His selection is an excellent one.

MR. GARLAND SINGLETON, the clever and accommodating school superintendent, wants the democratic nomination again and so announces this issue. Mr. Singleton has satisfactorily filled the office for several terms and will be a hard man to beat for the place again.

JONES.—Eben Hest Jones died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Marsh Coffey, near Perryville, aged about 75. He was born at Camp Dick Robinson, Garrard county, but spent much of his life at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Coffey, when she lived in this county. Mr. Jones had a number of staunch friends in this section.

SOME of the candidates for county officers are said to favor the nomination of a democratic ticket by the county committee but the majority of those with whom we have talked want a primary. The committee might better distribute the candidates but as all good democrats want the strongest man to win, and a primary is the best and only true test of a man's strength, a primary it should be. It is but natural for committee men to favor their friends and the candidate most popular with the members of the committee would have advantage over the other fellow. In a primary all have an equal show. Hence a primary is what should be demanded and expected.

BUY that Christmas present Dec. 10 at Farris'.

I HAVE a nice line of mourning veils. Miss Ella May Saunders.

HAVE you read about the South Bend watch? W. H. Mueller handles them.

FOR SALE.—A good, fat hog, weight about 500 pounds. Mrs. W. B. McRoberts. Stanford.

WANTED, to buy several shares of First National Bank stock. Phone or write this office.

GOUGH & BECK will pay the highest market price for your turkeys from now till Dec. 20th.

GREAT reduction in tips and fine feathers. $4 plumes now sell at $3 and so on. Misses Straub.

WE have several tons of good feeding hay we are selling at 40c a bale. J. H. Baughman & Co.

LOST, a good buggy rug between Olympian Springs and McKinney. Reward. Y. W. Burton, Hustonville.

CHEAP.—Our prices on Xmas goods this year will surprise you. You will wonder how we can sell them so cheap. Farris.

D. W. MAHAN, of Danville, will succeed R. P. Adams, deceased, as drummer for Bryan, Goodwin & Hunt, in this territory.

NICE line of rockers, center tables, new rugs, matting, picture frames and mouldings. Call and see them at Tribble & Pence's.

THE Kentucky Growers Insurance Co. settled the damages on Miss Mary Peppie's house entirely satisfactorily, we are requested to state.

CHAPPELL.—Thomas Chappell, aged 21, died at Crab Orchard and the remains were interred at Lancaster. He was formerly of Garrard.

WE will make special prices on all lines of millinery, especially children's goods, from now until after the holidays. Misses VanDeveer.

ALL hats at mid below cost; feathers and all trimmings at greatly reduced prices from now until Xmas. Miss Rella Arnold, Crab Orchard, milliner.

THE shortage in the Citizens National Bank at Monticello is $58,000. The cashier, Judge Charles W. McConaghy, is still in jail at Newport. His friends have made no effort to bail him out.

THE ladies of the Crab Orchard Christian church will hold an exchange and bazaar in the vacant store room of Mr. Curtis Gover next Saturday, Dec. 12. Help a good cause by patronizing them.

WE will give away at noon on Christmas eve a $20 doll as a first prize and a music box Xmas tree, 2nd. Each person spending 25c in cash will be given a chance on these beautiful articles. New Stanford Drug Co.

THE Frankfort Journal prints a picture of Hon. W. H. Shanks, candidate for Representative from this county, but the cut is so poor our townsman's most intimate friends would hardly recognize it as a picture of him.

JAMES F. HOLDAM, who has made a splendid circuit clerk, is announced for that office again. No cleverer man nor better democrat lives than Mr. Holdam and his legion of friends will be glad to learn that he will stand for the office again.

SHOE STORE FOR SALE.—Dandy location in a nearby Kentucky county seat. High class—spot cash trade. Good prospects. Excellent reasons for selling. "Real Estate," lock box 133, Nicholasville, Ky.

THE ladies of the Christian church will hold their bazaar, Saturday, Dec. 12th, in the Owsley store room. All contributing to same will please bring in articles the day previous to sale. Everybody is most cordially invited.

MR. THOMAS W. GOUGH, of the McKinney section, announces this issue for fall of Lincoln county. Mr. Gough is a hustling democratic worker and asks his friends to support him. He tells us that he will make an active canvass and has lots of friends who hope he will be successful.

THE pupils of the Stanford Graded School will give their first semi-annual entertainment in the Graded School chapel Friday night, next, Dec. 11th. These entertainments are given for the benefit of pupils, patrons and general improvements. Every patron and friend of schools and improvement is cordially invited to come. Usual prices of admission. Proceeds for benefit of Graded School apparatus.

A FRANKFORT special says: A large crowd of spectators, women and men, to-night saw a grey game cock of the Grist strain, owned by S. M. Saufley, of this city, outspare the other cocks at the annual State Fanciers' and Breeders' Poultry Exhibition and win the championship and a silver loving cup as a trophy. The contest took place in the grand jury room in the court house, where the poultry exhibition is in full blast.

DEC. 10. Don't fail to visit my store. George H. Farris.

REMEMBER my goods are now going at cost. Miss Ella May Saunders.

WE are opening our Christmas goods this week. Come and see us. W. H. Higgins.

ALL trimmed hats go at a sacrifice this week. Miss Ella May Saunders, milliner.

FOR SALE.—Some choice meat hogs. Will weigh 250 pounds. A. M. Feland, Stanford.

FOR Xmas presents of beauty and which will be a joy forever, see W. H. Mueller, the jeweler.

I WILL begin to day a reduced sale on hats. $2.50 hats now go at $1.75 and so on. Misses Straub.

LET me tell you of the 25 or more points of superiority of the sewing machine I handle. W. H. Mueller.

SEE the splendid Webber wagon on sale at Coffey & Bishop's store, Moreland. Best farm and road wagon made.

LOST, between Dr. Carpenter's and Christian church a gold swastika stick pin with diamond in center. Reward, if left at this office.

LOST, between Yosemite and McKinney, a valise. Contained a rain coat and other things. Clai McIntosh, hackman on the Yosemite and McKinney route.

NOTICE FENCE BUILDERS.—I have for sale on Shelby City short pike about 3,000 locust posts and stakes. Will sell cheap at once. W. M. Baucum, Junction City, Ky.

To all parties holding certificates of county claims: You are notified that the money is now in the county treasury to pay your claims and that you must therefore pay your taxes at once, otherwise I will have to add the penalty. T. J. Hill, S. L. C.

PUBLIC SALE.—On county court day, Dec. 14, I will sell my house and lot on Hustonville street at 11 A. M. in front of the court house. The house consists of four rooms with good garden and large lot. Possession Jan. 1. For further information see W. A. Tribble, Mrs. G. P. Tinsman.

HARRIS.—Stanford lost one of her best and most progressive citizens when Mr. Mark Hardin's spirit passed into the great beyond at 11 o'clock Saturday night. He was one of those whole-souled, wide-awake men who help push things along and who never know such a word as fail. Some 20 years ago he came to Stanford from Monticello a penniless youth, but by hard work and frugal methods he had become the holder of some of the best investments in the city. The St. Asaph Hotel and Myers House Flats are some of the valuable pieces of Stanford property he owned. About 18 years ago he married Miss Bessie Farris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Farris, and she is left to mourn the loss of a kind, attentive and devoted husband. May He Who ennea for the widow and orphan comfort her and give her strength to bear her great burden. Mr. Hardin joined the Christian church a score of years ago and he so lived as to be ready when the final summons came. Deceased had been in bad health for several years and it was decided some 10 days ago to take him to Dr. McChord's hospital at Lebanon for an operation. The physicians found him in even worse condition than they had believed and held out no hope for him after the knife had been used. The remains were brought on the noon train Sunday and hundreds of friends were at the depot to meet them. In fact nearly every family in town was represented; all desirous to do something for the sorrowing wife and brothers, who accompanied the remains. After services at the late home by Rev. D. M. Walker the burial occurred in Buffalo cemetery at 2:30 yesterday afternoon. The Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias, of which orders he was a member, were on hand in large numbers. Each order sent a beautiful floral tribute, the boards at the St. Asaph Hotel tendered an immense floral design, while warm personal friends sent flowers in profusion. The city council chamber is draped in black on account of the taking away of one of its best and hardest workers for the advancement of Stanford. In fine, the town is in mourning over the loss of one, whose every effort was for the upbuilding of this good little city. The writer loses a true friend in Mr. Hardin, whom he has known for two decades and whose friendship he will ever cherish. The poor of the community have been dealt a severe blow in his death. Mr. Hardin probably did more to alleviate suffering humanity than any man in Stanford. He gave liberally of his means to help them and no person, it mattered not his condition or position, was deprived of a seat at his table. Truly a valuable man has gone and the question comes, will his place be filled? We fear it will not. Mr. Hardin leaves five brothers and two sisters and the sympathy of the community also goes out to them in the loss of a brother in all the term means.

The Development of West Texas.

KENT, TEX., Nov. 25.—With a tide of home-seekers turned toward the territory lying between the Pecos and Rio Grande rivers, West Texas is fast becoming developed. All this land until recently was leased and controlled by large ranchmen for the small sum of 3 cents an acre, but as fast as the leases expire, the State, refusing to lease them again, puts the land on the market for the home-seekers. The largest ranch in this territory is the X Ranch, owned by the Reynolds Cattle Co., of Ft. Worth. They control something like 600 sections, or 320,000 acres, and have 100,000 cattle on it. Different sections of this ranch are being filed on by homeseekers as fast as the leases run out. The State is certainly right in refusing to lease her lands any longer, as one good home for one child is worth more to a country than a thousand cows upon every hill and in every valley; the cry of one child is more civilizing than the bleat of 10,000 calves, and thosmoke from the chimney of one good home is worth more than all the fires of all the branding pens.

While this is a broken country, with soil not very uniform, there are localities where grapes, apples, cotton, corn and forage for stock do well. The rain fall is not yet sufficient for all purposes, but this condition is said to be improving as the country is settled. Water for stock purposes is procured from wells and surface tanks, and the territory is destined to be a great stock raising country.

The game season is open here now and hunters are flocking in from all quarters. The Davis and Guadalupe hills are well stocked with such game as bear, deer, panthers and a few Mexican lion. The writer has had the luck to kill two deer and a bear, and experienced an exciting time in dispatching the latter.

With best wishes for the I. J. and its many readers. H. R. JONES.
